

DETROIT'S PREMIER BUSINESS JOURNAL dbusiness

Sections ▾ Topics ▾ Contact ▾

Corporate Gift Offer
Give your clients the gift of a one-year subscription (6 issues) to DBusiness magazine, Detroit's premier business journal.

Farmington Hills-based Law Firm Successfully Defends Local Businessman Wayne Webber

DBUSINESS DAILY NEWS

Published: Monday, June 29, 2015

The offices of Young & Associates

Farmington Hills-based Young & Associates, a law firm that specializes in business litigation, today announced it has successfully defeated a multi-million dollar lawsuit brought against businessman Wayne Webber, president of Webber General Properties Inc. by his one time attorney.

"This is a case in which our team was able to illustrate a very clear picture of the dispute and to prove that our client had behaved in a fair and entirely justified manner," says Rodger Young, founder of Young & Associates, who represented Webber along with attorney Jaye

Quadrozzi.

The dispute arose in 2005 when Michael Biber was Webber's attorney for the sale of the business for $220 million. Biber claimed that in addition to the compensation originally agreed upon in his contract, he was owed a 1 percent performance bonus, which would be about $2.2 million.

Webber is the co-founder of Champagne-Webber Inc., a concrete company founded in 1963. The company grew and eventually became Houston-based W.W. Webber LLC. Webber is also known for being a philanthropist in the metro Detroit community, and he and his wife, Joan, have gifted $2 million to Beyond Basics to help eradicate illiteracy in Detroit through the Wayne and Joan Webber Foundation. He donated $4 million to Beaumont Hospitals in 2010 and made a nearly $3 donation to the Detroit Institute of Arts in 2009.

This article appears in the Annual 2015 issue of Daily News

Did you like what you read here? Subscribe to Daily News »

Corporate Gift Offer
Give your clients the gift of a one-year subscription (6 issues) to DBusiness magazine, Detroit's premier business journal.

Like

Share

2 people like this. Sign Up to see what your friends like.

Add a comment...

Facebook social plugin